

It is very important to pick up trash before it makes its way to the bay. One reason why is when it makes its way to the bay it pollutes the water around it and hurts the animals. Also we should start having all classes pick up trash and help the environment. Another reason that we should help the environment is that there is lots of waste and alot does not get picked up. We should all help out the environment and pick up trash.

There are many types of waste that gets dumped in the oceans. We all need to help even picking up trash at our school we are helping save the bay. Also some of the really bad things that go in the ocean are water bottles and plastic bags, we should all help and also we could bring reusable water bottles to help the bay. We all need to help save the bay from pollution.

It is important to pick up trash before it goes into the bay. For example, if there is a lot of trash in the water, it can harm sea life. Also, it can make the water harmful to living things. In addition, it can affect the air we breathe. Finally, the bay goes into the ocean. Trash is important to pick up!

There should be a school trash pick up. My first reason is because it can harm land animals. It can also harm plants. In addition, some trash can affect our body. Everyone should pick up trash.

Students across all grade levels participated in a school yard clean up with their Buddy Classes. Trash collected from the clean up was sorted into “landfill” and “recycled” bins on school grounds.
