

Each day, approximately 50 students place unopened food items in the Share Bin instead of in the trash can. These items are then shared with other students who are still hungry.

