

Students utilizing their desks and write on/wipe off surfaces in place of paper classwork assignments. This sustainability practice reduces solid waste and is utilized across all grade levels and content areas.

